Applied Mechanics Department

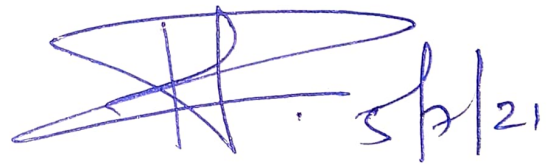

Notice: To the Students of BE Vth / VIIth Semester

Date:05/07/2021

The academic term of the odd semesters of the AY2021-22 has already been commenced, and the classes are conducted in online mode. It is observed that only 20 to 25% of students remain present in the class.

It is hereby informed that all the students attend all the classes regularly to their advantage and not miss any academic requirements like tests/tutorials or others.

The students would be responsible for the consequences of not attending the classes regularly. If you have any inconvenience for regular attendance, you may be reported to any of the faculty members.
